

Per-class halt directions are decodable across the decoder;
classes peak at different layers (content-decoupled)

